TEQUILARIA

Legend tells us that Tequila arrived in a flash of divine inspiration. A group of tribesmen from the Tequila tribe in Amatitan Jalisco witnessed a lone bolt of lightning strike an agave plant. The heat boiled the liquid inside and when the plant cooled down they tasted the nectar from the heart of the agave 'The Pina'. They deemed it to be a "miraculous gift from the gods".

TEQUILA 101

BLANCO:

This is the closest you get to the taste of an Agave plant. The purest Tequila...not aged.

REPOSADO:

Slightly aged in oak barrels for no longer than a year. Softer, sweeter and more complex.

ANEJO:

Aged for longer than a year and up to ten. A tequila you sip so the aromas of wood and spice fill you with the taste of the gods!

TEQUILA FLIGHTS

A great way to get a taste for the different varieties and styles of Tequila.
